

SPINAL STABILIZATION SURGICAL METHOD

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Spinal fusion implants are inserted into a disc space of disc material separating first and second
5 vertebrae by forming bores between the vertebrae. A distraction spacer is temporarily put in place on one side of the vertebrae while a bore is being formed on an opposite of the vertebrae.